Some friends from out of the city having stopped at the "Temperance Restaurant," a few doors south, have expressed surprise that the W. C. T. U. had added a cigar stand to its lunch room. The ladies feel somewhat chagrined over it, and wish to say in vindication that the restaurant in question is not the W. C. T. U. lunch room, which has no such attachment.

We hope that she will be greeted by a large audience, "or generous deed intent." Let her welcome be heartfelt. If any of her friends have previous engagements, the next best thing to do is to buy tickets.

LEGISLATIVE NOTES.

Another Ineffectual Effort to Call Up the Appropriation Bill.

Congress Congratulated for Placing Grant on the Retired List.

Mr. Loyd by no Means Sanguine of Passing the Knightstown Home Bill.

Several Bills Signed by the Governor—A Colored Man's Views on Townsman's Bill—Other Notes.

The Militia bill was passed by the House yesterday afternoon, after a debate in which a number of Representatives participated.

The Senate bill permitting County Commissioners to issue bonds for the construction of court-houses was passed by the House yesterday.

W. O. Foley is seeking the appointment as National Bank Examiner, and a petition in his interest is being circulated among the members of the Legislature.

Mr. Loyd made a motion yesterday afternoon to hold an evening session for the purpose of considering the Knightstown Home bill, but the House refused to assent by a vote of 47 to 43.

In speaking on the Militia bill, yesterday morning, Representative Harrell mentioned the name of Speaker Jewett in connection with the Governorship four years hence, and was loudly applauded for the sentiment.

The Republican Senators have filed a statement of their reasons for opposing the appropriation bills at their several stages, the statement embodying substantially the same points as made by the signers in debate.

By an almost unanimous vote the House yesterday passed a resolution congratulating the Congress of the United States on the fact that it had placed Grant on the retired list of the army. Mr. Gooding alone voted in the negative.

The Governor yesterday appointed and commissioned Orlando J. Lotz, of Delaware County, Judge of the Forty-sixth Judicial District, and Emerson McGriff, of Randolph, Prosecuting Attorney for the Twenty-fifth Judicial District.

The Democratic members of the House held a caucus yesterday afternoon for the purpose of coming to an understanding about the appropriation bill, but the meeting resulted in nothing and adjourned without any definite action.

The House yesterday afternoon passed joint resolutions allowing the claim of Miss Lizzie Callis for $861.83 for preparing the bills of the House and Senate, and the claim of the Knightstown Home Investigating Committee for expenses aggregating $1,038.

The claim of John Martin for $16,734.46 was reported from the Judiciary Committee, Mr. Williams submitting a minority report.

The claim is for work done on the Insane Hospital, and seems to have been erroneously delayed. Both reports were laid on the table till such time as the bill should be called up for action.

Mr. Loyd does not appear to have much confidence in his ability to have the Knightstown Home bill considered before adjournment. He has exhausted every means in his power to get the bill considered, but under the rule to take up bills in their regular order, there is no probability of its being considered. In the event that the bill is not passed, Mr. Loyd and White will continue in office for the next two years.

At 2:30 yesterday afternoon Mr. Patten moved to take up the appropriation bill at 3 o'clock. Mr. Dittmore moved to lay the motion on the table, and the eyes and noses were demanded. In explaining his vote, Mr. Patten denounced the action of the members who opposed the consideration of the bill, and declared that the responsibility should be made to rest where it belonged.

The motion to lay on the table prevailed by a vote of 56 to 39 the Republicans voting with a few Democrats to prevent its consideration.

The Governor signed several bills yesterday, among which were the following: An act creating a judicial circuit in each of the counties of Randolph and Delaware which formerly constituted the Forty-fifth judicial circuit; an act legalizing foreign surety companies doing business in this State, prescribing the duties of the agents thereof, and of the Auditor of State in connection therewith; an act legalizing the incorporation of the town of Bourbon, Marshall County, and to legalize the officers and acts of the several boards of trustees and the officers of said town; an act making appropriation for the State Government and its institutions, directing the application of such appropriations, requiring reports to be kept and repaid in accordance with law, and providing for the construction and repairing of fish ladders, defining certain misdemeanors and providing penalties. Immediately after the signature of the Governor had been filed these bills were filed with the Secretary of the State.

A COLORED MAN'S VIEWS.

The Republican press is charging the Democracy with being unfair to the colored people, simply because the bill introduced by Representative Townsend, the colored member from Fort Wayne, entitled a bill to abolish all discriminatory laws on account of race, color or previous condition, was defeated in the House by a vote of 43 to 40.

The facts in the matter are these: Senator Thompson introduced a civil rights bill in the Senate, which appears on the calendar as Senate bill No. 43, identically the same bill which Congress made law, and was set aside by a Republican Supreme Court. The Republicans in the Senate attempted to defeat a measure by tacking on riders to it, and lastly, by injecting into it an amalgamation clause, but were not successful. Now, the same tactics, it was thought, would work in the House if the colored member would be induced to champion it. How to defeat the passage of a bill that would break the color line in politics, was the enigma. If the measure becomes Indiana law, as was the case under Democratic rule in the States of Ohio, New Jersey and Connecticut, it will unmask the pretension that the Democracy is unfriendly to the colored people. So, in order to arrest this turn in affairs, an exigency arose, and that was to have the colored member introduced some sort of a bill, which was numbered House bill 99, which it was thought, on account of his connection with the race, that of itself would be sufficient to disarm all criticism, and both defeat the Thompson bill and place the Democratic party on record. Before the vote was taken, however, an effort was made by Representatives Gooding, of Hancock, and Pendleton, of Marion County, to pass the bill by removing the amalgamation feature, or to pass Senate bill No. 43, which the Republicans refused to do. To show that House bill No. 99 was only a substitute and a sham it is only necessary to examine some of its features for a moment. The measure proposes to wipe out the word "white" in the militia clause of the Constitution of Indiana by a statutory enactment, when the Constitution is the supreme law of the State and in its provisions it sets out the way for its own amendment. It also proposes to repeal Sections 2136 and 2137 of the Revised Statutes on the subject of amalgamation in a general sweeping statute, without specifically setting out the statute by its title, etc., to be repealed. The bill does not seem to be unwilling to detract from the ability of the gentleman, it is apparent that one of the following reasons are true:

1. That the gentleman intended to inject House bill 99 to the detriment of Senate bill 43.

2. To cater to the local feeling in his own county on account of the imprisonment of a colored man for marrying a white woman.

3. That the gentleman intended to protect an itinerant minister of his own faith and order who had also violated the amalgamation laws and was fearful of the consequences.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Josiah Locke Drops Dead at the Journal Building—Sketch of His Life.

Josiah Locke died suddenly yesterday morning at the Journal office, of heart disease, aged fifty-four years. He had just left the office of H. B. Coe & Co., with Charles Soehner, and on the staircase he began to cough. Mr. Soehner caught him and assisted him down the staircase to the street, and with assistance took him into the Journal counting room, where in a few minutes he breathed his last.

His death, while sudden was not unexpected, as he has been suffering from heart troubles for considerable time. He apparently suffered but little pain, and from the first faltering of his steps on the stairs he did not speak. Mr. Locke was born at Morris, O., in 1837. He was married at Ashland, O., and soon after removed to this city, where, with a few brief intervals, he has since resided, and has been actively engaged in business, first in real estate and afterward in the lighting rod business, in partnership with David Munson. In 1863 he purchased Mr. Berry Sulgrove's interest in the Daily Journal and became its manager, but sold it the following year to Holloway, Douglas & Coomer. He then engaged in the banking business for a short time, being connected with the Fourth National. In 1865 he purchased the Daily Sentinel with J. M. Tilford, but the enterprise miscarried and the concern was immediately sold to Hall. Mr. Locke then removed to Pittsburg, and remained there for a few years, but did not relinquish his business in this city, and afterward went to Chicago as business manager of the Advance. He also spent some time in California, and planted an orange orchard at Pasadena which he sold but a few weeks ago. About eight years ago he resumed active business in this city, and has been connected with Fletcher's Bank, having the charge of outside real estate interests. He had recently returned from a trip to California, seemingly much improved in health. His wife, a son, a daughter and a grandchild survive him, his oldest daughter, the wife of S. A. Fletcher, Jr., having died recently. He was one of the original members of the Plymouth Church, but upon the organization of the Mayflower Church he went with his old pastor, N. A. Hyde, and has since been with him in the new organization ever since. He had for years expected to die suddenly.

RAILWAY NEWS.

Big Four Earnings for the Fourth Quarter of February—Electric Headlights on the Vandalla.

New Orleans travel continues brisk, and there is little or no cutting except by the scalpers.

The Monon people are preparing to make many improvements in their road, and the purchase of a number of new and elegant passenger coaches and sleeping cars is contemplated.

"Washington business was 20 per cent larger this year than it was four years ago," said a passenger man yesterday; "and," he continued, "there was no profit in this year owing to the fact that there was no break in rates."

The new purchasers of the Toledo and Indianapolis have made T. B. Brown, the late President, General Manager of the road. It is now intimated that the purchase is in the interest of the Indiana, Bloomington and Western, and that the T. and I. will eventually become a branch of that system.

The electric headlight which was placed on passenger engine 45 of the Vandalla nearly two weeks ago, has been working most satisfactory. Master Mechanic Prescott says that as soon as practicable all passenger engines will be equipped with the light. The headlight needs but little attention, and being a very much stronger light than that obtained from coal oil it will come into general use sooner or later.

Master of Transportation J. L. Teague, of the Evansville and Terre Haute, has just completed a trip of inspection of the Terre Haute and Southern. It is thought that better transportation facilities will be the outcome of the frequent trips of the E. and T. H. officials over the Southern. There does not seem to be any perceptible dropping off in passenger receipts since the 1st of March, when the fare was reduced.

A Calico Party.

The "calico party" at the Wigwam Rink last night was a very successful affair, both in point of numbers and the manner in which the party was conducted. The rink was well filled with skaters and spectators, the seats being nearly all occupied. The costumes were what one would expect to see—some very neat, and others only "so-so." The prizes were awarded by a committee, as follows: Best dress, to Mrs. Catter, a dressing case; ugliest dress, to Miss Graves, a white satin fan; best gentleman's costume, to Mr. Phelan, a pair of club skates.

THE GREAT CARNIVAL.

Preparations for the Work of the Festival—The New Armory Hall.

On Tuesday of next week the great military carnival on the occasion of the opening of the new armory on College avenue is to commence. The occasion is noteworthy, not only because it is in celebration of the first armory erected for the local military companies, but also because the festival is to be as much to promote charitable objects as for the benefit of the two military companies interested. One-third of the entire proceeds, it is remembered, is to go to the Indianapolis Orphan Asylum, than which there is no local charity more popular and deserving. It has been the good fortune of the members of the Richardson Zouaves and the Indianapolis Light Artillery to obtain the hearty cooperation of all the best lady workers in the city, and a great deal of enthusiasm is being manifested by all the committees having the work in charge.

As to the preparations for the carnival, it may be said that the work of the various committees is now progressing rapidly, and promises most excellent results in the way of entertainment. During the last few days the Committee on Decoration has been actively engaged, and by Saturday the building will present a most attractive appearance.

A stage has been erected for the use of the Lyra chorists and orchestra which measures 20x40 feet, thus affording ample accommodation for all the performers.

Arrangements have been made for lighting the building with the new Siemens gas burners, the same that were used at the inauguration ball at Washington, Chas. W. Melkel & Co., agents in this city for the Siemens burners, having arranged for them to be placed in the Armory for use during the carnival week.

One of the most attractive features of the week's display will be the large collection of military relics, including almost every conceivable variety, among them a lot of rare curiosities contributed by the East India Company. Persons who have or can obtain a military relic, or antiquated article of interest, are requested to place themselves in communication, to-day or to-morrow, with Miss Lizzie O. Callis, the State Librarian, who has charge of this department, and after Friday they may be left at the Armory, or will be called for by Miss Callis notified.

The ladies of the Indianapolis Orphans' Home will have a large booth for the display and sale of fancy work, which will be attractive to all lady visitors, besides which there will be candy, cigar and bric-a-brac stands, and an exhibit of Fletcher M. Noe's varied collection of natural curiosities, the latter alone being well worth the price of admission, which will be ten cents in the day time throughout the week, with extra charge for the evening entertainments. The entire programme for the week will be published to-morrow.

Special attention is called to the fact that fire has been kept constantly in the building for two weeks past, and the new floor is now perfectly dry and the building fit for use.

A Noted Inventor in the City.

Theophilus Van Kannel, of Philadelphia, is in the city, the guest of Charles Test Whistler.

Mr. Van Kannel is a noted inventor, the author of an entirely original and automatic system of purifying water for domestic use, advanced ideas of ventilation and other things well known. But the triumph of his life, and as a result of seven years of study and experience, is the wonderful little globe gas machine recently introduced in this city, and is certainly to be classed among the most valuable inventions of his day, because one that places all the benefits of gas for lighting and heating at one-third the cost of coal gas in cities or in towns, or the country, where they have no gas.

Studio Reception.

All ladies interested in art work are invited to call at Hotel Denison parlors, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and examine our specimens of needle work and lustrous paintings.
